Dear Mr. Hartsock:

This correspondence is in response to your Request for Additional Information (RFAI) for the above referenced report. We have amended our report with the following corrections.

Regarding independent expenditures reported on Schedule E supporting Line 24 of our report, these expenditures are appropriately included in this schedule. Based on our discussion, we have modified these records to more clearly identify the timing of the expenses by reporting the date of the public dissemination rather than the date of the payment. The items you questioned that were reported as "Phoning Costs" are communication costs disseminated less than 24 hours prior to the election and therefore fell outside the window requiring a 24 hour notice. The item described as "Production Cost" was an unanticipated invoice we received after the predetermined communication expense had been reported via 24 hour notice. This late invoice represents additional production expense that the vendor submitted after the election resulting from last minute editing and delivery costs. Per our discussion with you, we have edited our report to show the date of public dissemination of the independent expenditures and provided additional description on the item which was invoiced after the election.

I trust this response answers your inquiry. Please note, no monetary information was changed in clearing up these matters. If you need further clarification please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Pat Huyck
Director of Accounting
